

Parent Interest Sheet

As you already know, youth ministry does not exist in a vacuum. It is made successful in part by the cooperation and support of the parents who encourage their son's or daughter's participation.

One of my expectations is that each family will provide one meal throughout the course of the year. If families would like to pair up to share the work and expenses, then perhaps you could sign up twice. This is one way that your support is needed.

I am also interested in learning about other ways in which you would be interested in helping with the youth group; some possibilities include transportation by helping kids get to and from youth group, driving the van or personal vehicle on an outing, offering your house for a party, sharing your faith journey, teaching youth about your career, teaching a lesson, sharing a gift or passion, assisting with a project, chaperoning a trip....the possibilities are almost endless!!!

Please list below the ways you would be willing to help. I will compile a list and draw from those names when help is needed.

- Transporting the youth group on outings
- Providing transportation for youth to get to youth activities
- Teaching a Lesson on _____
- Hosting an event at our home
- Serving as a chaperon on an overnight trip
- Assist in making phone calls
- Praying for youth ministry at FCC, Richmond
- Organizing mission/service projects in the local area
- Sharing your faith story with youth
- Pretty flexible; call me for just about anything
